Highest-weighted images per task-specific attention branch (held-out patients).
Attention weights indicate model reliance, not lesion localisation.

